

Til Mette

CARTOONS for the ROAD

Imprint

Til Mette: Cartoons for the Road

First Printrun

ISBN 978-3-902980-29-8

Layout: Sarah Braid, Lena Kothgasser

Printery: online Druck GmbH, Wr. Neudorf

© 2016 Holzbaum Verlag, Vienna

www.holzbaumverlag.at

One must be able to let go.

T I L

„Don't you think you look ridiculous with those fringes on your sombrero?“

Security check in a world without terrorism.

*„I love these moments of tranquility.
Here, I get away from assholes like me.“*

Til Mette

German cartoonist, born 1956 in Bielefeld, Germany. Studied history and art from 1980 to 1985 in Bremen. Lived from 1992 with his wife for 15 years in New York City and Montclair, NJ. Works since 1995 as staff cartoonist for stern magazine. Lives with his wife and two daughters in Hamburg, Germany.

www.tilmette.com

„I considered myself an astrophysicist, until a colleague of mine pointed out that it was necessary to study astrophysics at a proper university. I then changed plans and became a cartoonist. There you don't need a university degree, but essentially you do the the same. You stare at the sky and try to come up with ideas.“

Til Mette 2016